PATRIOTS 2013

Patriots 2013 is upon us and it's going to be awesome. It will be dominated by one college, the one we call home, the one that is superior to every other. This year, Furness will quiver in their nighties when they see our brave young men and women take to the field, the courts and the bar. 2013 is the year of the griffin. We are done messing around, we mean business, we are here to win.

We're delighted that we don't have to step anywhere near their pathetic excuse of a college for any moment of this weekend. Just like the trophy, the patriots' cup is coming home. We say bring it on Furness! We're going to annihilate them in the bar sports, own them on the field and smash them in the sports hall. Their insults are getting tiresome and predictable. They'll snub our accommodation, jibe about our sports teams or pick on the, oh so easy target, our bar. But The Patriots' Cup will return to us at the Winning Post; we won't need to venture anywhere near silly little Trev!

Last year we showed them how it's done in their previous 'safe guard', the tug of war. (Perhaps it's because we have faith in using our own players.) This year will be no different! However, Cartmel, complacency is our worst enemy. Furness stepped up their game last year and took Patriots away from us. Patriots 2013 will be closer than ever and it will be a nail-biting weekend. I cannot wait for the sea of burgundy and purple shirts over the weekend. Join us to make sure the burgundy outnumbers the purple!

Drink will flow, talent will be on show and the self-proclaimed sporty college will be quietened for another year. This weekend will be ours.

SALMAN RUKHSAR, CARTMEL PRESIDENT

PATRIOTS' HISTORY

The Patriots' Cup was founded in March 2009, as an inter-college sporting competition between Cartmel and Furness like no other, now in its fifth year! The sporting events range from traditional sports, to sports less-conventionally hosted by such competitions, such as videogaming, bar sports, and sports-day themed events.

As of 2012's Patriots', the competition is held over a period of two days.

For those who enjoy the nightlife in Lancaster, after each day's hard-work is over, competitors from both colleges will have the chance to go to The Sugarhouse; here, a less-competitive atmosphere awaits, allowing students to leave their differences behind on-campus for the night.

The Results so far...

2009: Cartmel's 1st Victory
2010: Cartmel's 2nd Victory
2011: Draw
(116-116)
2012: Furness' 1st Victory
(92-55)
2013: YOU Decide!

A PATRIOTS' DAY IN THE LIFE OF...

A Typical Furnessian Competitor

10:00 You wake, and go through the ritual of hoping that Cartmel are less prepared than in previous years. You recite the following: Luck, you are our only hope.

11:00 After getting ready for the day, you come up with a witty, unoriginal comment about Cartmel's bar, The Winning Post. Continue hoping.

12:00 Go to see what's happening in Trev for Patriots' later on, only to find that everything is being held in Cartmel. Retract previous statements about Cartmel's bar, as, for the duration of Patriots' at the very least, Cartmel is where it's all at.

13:00 Lunch-time. Meet up with fellow Furnessians and join in a collective discussion about having an inferior mascot.

15:00 Preparation for Bar Sports. Reminisce oncemore that none will be held in Trev, and reluctantly head to Cartmel where preparations are already underway, each Cartmelian competitor already practising their sport like a boss.

16:00 Brace yourself... this is going to be a difficult day even to break even on points.

WHY PATRIOTS 2013 WILL BE THE GREATEST YET

Despite The Patriots' Cup being five years old in 2013, last year was the first time when the Cup was taken from Cartmel's grasp; this year, we have the opportunity to reclaim this symbol of their sporting prowess once and for all.

With sheer determination throughout, this year could not only surpass all other Patriots' to date, but could re-invent what it means to participate in University Sports - both through the atmosphere of each event and the legacy of sporting achievement which each may entail.

This year's Patriots' Cup is also the first to involve Lancaster's new Sports Centre; what better venue than this to start a new Cartmelian winning streak?

Cartmel may have given Furness their chance last year... But this year The Griffin, led by Cartmel's sporting endeavour, will rise like an infallible eagle beyond the Furnessian hills, soar through each victory, and take on the challenge of a third Patriots' Win with lion-like determination until the very last event.

SPORTS: SO FAR THIS TERM IN CARTER SHIELD...

PATRIOT'S CUP

Carter Shield
